Senior Parks Maintenance Worker Debra Dill is City's Employee of the Year!

Horticulturist is Credited with Beautifying City by Overseeing Downtown Flower Baskets

(Edmonds, WA) – Senior Parks Maintenance Worker Debra Dill has been voted the City of Edmonds 2016 Employee of the Year by her colleagues. The award was announced by Mayor Dave Earling at the City's annual Holiday Brunch at City Hall on Tuesday. Debra Dill works as a Senior Parks Maintenance Worker/Horticulturist in the City's Parks, Recreation & Cultural Services Department. She recently obtained her arborist certification and is credited with beautifying our community by maintaining and overseeing the flower baskets around Edmonds.

"Debra is a true asset for the Parks Department," says City of Edmonds Parks and Recreation Director Carrie Hite. "She is always striving to learn more, and bring her knowledge and skills to the department and the overall flower program."

Debra Dill has been working for the City since April 2007. The City's Employee of the Year award recognizes employees who exhibit outstanding effort and dedicated service to the community. The EOY award recipient is determined by the EOY Award Committee, which is comprised of previous EOY award recipients.
